Venice Asks U.S. To Reconsider Depot Closing

A resolution calling upon federal officials to reconsider their order to shut down operation of the Granite City Army Depot by June 30, 1971, was adopted Friday night by the Venice city council, which pointed out that the closing will result in a "major impact upon the economy of the area."

The resolution was approved at the suggestion of Mayor John E. Lee, who said copies of the document will be sent to U.S. Senators Ralph E. Smith and Charles H. Percy, Cong. Melvin Price of East St. Louis and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

The council's action, taken at a regular meeting, urged that as an alternative, in the event the shutdown cannot be averted, the physical facilities of the Army Depot be made available in such a manner that they benefit the greatest number of persons in the area.

Closing of the Depot has been ordered by the U.S. Department of Defense in line with cutbacks in military expenditures.

Text of Resolution

"Whereas, the Department of Defense has announced its intention of shutting down the Granite City Army Depot by June 30, 1971, and "Whereas, the closing of said installation will cause a major impact upon the economy of the area by loss of employment and other related activities, therefore be it resolved by the City Council of Venice:

"That the city of Venice, through its representatives, urge the officials and elected officials concerned with the operation of the Granite City Army Depot to be called upon to exercise all efforts possible to prevent the closing of the aforesaid facility and in such a manner as will benefit the greatest number of persons in the locality thereof."

Urges Area Use

Mayor Lee, at the time plans for the Depot shutdown were announced, urged acquisition of the property and facilities by the latter's home at 12:40 a.m. Saturday. The intruder was charged with burglary.

'Protests' Boost SU Insurance Cost 650%

Student Vandalism Causing Fewer Risk Firms to Submit Bids

"The public should be made aware what damages are being done by irresponsible minors who want to be called adults," Trustee Harold R. Fletcher of Granite City commented Friday during the "high cost of student protests" came into sharp focus during consideration of Southern Illinois University insurance renewal.

Increased vandalism at SIU campuses, particularly at Carbondale, coupled with nationwide damage inflicted on other university property by protesting students, forced insurance costs to jump this year from $32,000 with no deductible clause to $247,000 and a $100,000 deductible clause. SIU board members learned at their meeting at SIU-SW.

Apparently not many companies are willing to insure the university property, Neil Spillman, an SIU administrative assistant, informed the trustees. From 41 companies invited to bid, only three responded. The amount of the lowest bid and the only specific proposal was $247,000.

The rate amounts to a 650% increase over what was charged last year and includes fire, theft, vandalism and malicious mischief, such as damage caused by riots or demonstrations. The policy covers dormitories, university centers, residences used for offices and all leased facilities.

Glass breakage because of vandalism is not included, Spillman said. (Continued on page 3, col. 6)

Levee District Probe to Continue; Four Indicted

Further investigation into the affairs of the East Side Levee and Sanitary district will be made by the Madison county grand jury in addition to the probe in St. Clair county where all four trustees of the levee district board are under indictment on charges of misconduct in office, State's Atty. R. W. Griffith told the Press-Record today.

The four trustees, William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice, and Lawrence Tolar, George Duff and Morris Campbell, all of East St. Louis, entered not guilty pleas upon arraignment in circuit court at Belleville this morning.

Indictment of the four trustees was disclosed at Belleville last week when they surrendered to the St. Clair county grand jury. The grand jury returned indictments against the four trustees, which allegedly suppressed until papers could be served. Each of the board members posted the required 10% cash deposit of $500 bonds.

Involve Contract Awards

The true bills contained eight counts against each of the levee board members and involved the awarding of contracts with one bid or performance bonds and payment of allegedly excessive attorney fees.

Four counts of the indictments are based on two contracts totaling $189,519 to Eastgate Construction Co. of East St. Louis, which allegedly awarded without competitive bidding and without performance bonds as required by law. The contracts were awarded for cleaning and repairing two concrete tunnels in the East St. Louis riverfront levee.

Other counts allege the levee trustees authorized payments of attorney fees in excess of a maximum of $3500 allowed by law to three attorneys, and that the board hired five attorneys during 1969 instead of one attorney permitted by law.

One count alleges that the board paid more than the authorized $3500 to John R. Sprague Sr., Belleville. According to the indictment records, the district paid nearly $50,000 in legal fees in 1969 with $34,661 of the amount going to Sprague.

The indictments in St. Clair county resulted from a joint probe by the two counties.

Venice Policeman, Another Man, 22, Stabbed Today

A Venice police officer was stabbed in the upper left arm and cut on the left hand and a Venice man, 22, suffered multiple stab wounds by an ice pick early this morning in a fight at a residence where police had been called to quell a family disturbance.

John Kittel, 34, of 636 Jefferson street, a Venice police patrolman who had responded to the call with Patrolman Jack Fields, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital and released.

Charles "Bo" Stanley, 22, of 327 Mercedia street, was admitted to the hospital for treatment of stab wounds to the face, head, both arms, upper right leg and a puncture wound to the chest.

Police officers who are seeking the man who stabbed Stanley are Mrs. Marie Stanley, 21, of East St. Louis, who filed the house at 327 Mercedia after the fight in which she reportedly stabbed Stanley and wounded Patrolman Kittel. A complaint charged aggravated battery was filed against her this morning.

Chief of Police John Egginton said.

Swinging Broombstick

Kittel and Fields reported they were called to the Stanley residence about 1:40 a.m. today and found Stanley swinging a broombstick at Mrs. Stanley, who the officers said, had an ice pick in her hand and was trying to approach Stanley. Kittel got between them.

Approximately 700 students from throughout the state and area are expected to attend the two-day program.

The other will be the two-day annual convention of the Illinois Retail Store Employees Union, which will be hosted by Granite City Local 435 of the union. The clerk's convention will be held April 11 and 12 with meetings, luncheon and dinner sessions scheduled at the Rose Bowl.

Meeting sessions of the Junior High School Student Council will be held at the Coolidge Junior high school and in the senior high school auditorium.

Under the replacement proposal, the engineer explained, the present 10-inch sewer line, which is 15 feet underground, would be replaced with a larger 12-inch line that would be nine to 10 feet deep. This would still be below the floor level of most basements and would keep down the city cost of individual replacements.

Possible Savings

City Engineer Kenneth Klemp said the city could save $200,000 by replacing the sewer line with a larger 12-inch line that would be nine to 10 feet deep. This would still be below the floor level of most basements and would keep down the city cost of individual

Opposing Demos Claim Chairman On Committee

Two opposing Democratic factions competing for political supremacy in Namekoma township contended today they had elected the chairman and secretary of the township Democratic committee and an organization meeting yesterday in which the two groups recognized separate systems of voting.

The contest for officer control of the committee has been between the comparatively new "town board" Democratic faction and the old-line organization group headed by Supervisor Harry Briggs. In past years, the township had only seven precincts and virtually all the committeemen in those were aligned with Briggs.

The vote today, however, Namekoma's total number of precincts was increased to 11 and the town board group claimed six of them, with the other five posts going to Briggs-supported candidates.

Two are Nominated

In yesterday's afternoon meeting at the Namekoma hall, the town board faction nominated Robert Beedle, Precinct 6, as chairman, while the Briggs group nominated Deltour, Precinct 3, for reelection as chairman. Deltour announced that the weighted system of voting, in which committeemen are entitled to cast the number of Democratic ballots cast in their respective precincts, would be used.

Town Clerk Louis Whitsell, a leader of the town board faction, objected that such a system had not been used before and that a majority vote of the number of committeemen should rule.

Deltour, acting as chairman, but not vote counting, weighed in with the town board faction. Although the town board group had six committeemen, the Briggs group had five. Democratic vote of the five committeemen aligned with Briggs outvoted that of the town board group by about 200 ballots.

The same procedure was followed in the election of Homer Boothman, Precinct 4, a Briggs associate, and of Whitsell as candidates for secretary.

No Opposition

The post of treasurer went to the town board faction, without opposition, without opposition.

After the meeting, Whitsell said that so far as the town board faction was concerned, Beedle is chairman and he, Whitsell, is secretary of the township Democratic committee. He said that the system of his associates felt the system of voting.

sewer connections onto the new line.

The old line would be left in the ground and filled with sand. Kieberger pointed out the new, larger line would be of a new flexible pipe with tight, plastic sealers to prevent leakage or infiltration.

Financing Plan

Reporting on last Tuesday's meeting with Col. Charles S. Wood of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, William Eisele, of the U. S. Civil Defense and representatives of the Corps of Engineers, Alderman Moerlein said the city would be allocated $168,000 of OEP funds for the replacement, with $55,000 to be received by May 1, $29,000 by July 1 and the remainder when the job is completed. He added there also was a possibility of the city receiving an extra $20,000 for any added costs.

City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich was called upon to explain the sudden availability of money from the Nameoki area sewer line reserve fund. He said City Atty. Scroggins had ruled on it favorably, since those funds were added to the reserve sewer bonds, (Scroggins was not present at Thursday's special session). The city, Rich added, has the funds available to meet the interest payments twice a year and principal costs once a year, and the reserve funds are building up and being invested to earn interest.

"I can't explain why the fund was set up by John Doohar (the late comptroller for the city). I find nothing in the sewer bond ordinance for a reserve fund. Maybe Mr. Doohar foresaw the problems the city would encounter."

No Bond Obligation
Rich added that there is no bond obligation on the reserve fund, but there was some dispute over its use because the bond firm attorney said the reserve funds could not be touched unless approved by the bondholders. The treasurer continued that during a meeting with the bond attorney, it was brought out the city is obligated only to pay principal and interest as they fall due and that if the reserve funds were not made available for repair or replacement of the collapsing sewer lines that the sewer system could break down entirely and collection of the $2.50 monthly fee from householders would be questionable, since the users would not be receiving sanitary sewer services. Alderman Rutledge asked if the money would have to be repaid to the reserve fund, but there was no direct reply. Rutledge added that the city council has never received an opinion from the city attorney on the city's obligation to bond.

SIU to Get Appraisal Of Parks Air College

The SIU board on Friday authorized engagement of Roy Wendick Co. of St. Louis to appraise the property of Parks College of Aeronautical Technology and determine a cost figure of the property as an educational institution.

If the SIU trustees agree with the appraisal figure, the appraisal will be forwarded to the Illinois Board of Higher Education for consideration.

Parks College has been a part of St. Louis University since 1946, but its trustees have announced a decision to phase out engineering and other technical curricula, including Parks College.

College property includes six residence halls and eight instructional buildings on a 115-acre campus at the junction of Illinois State Highways Three and 157, adjacent to Cahokia. Flight training is given at Big State Park Airport nearby.

Enrollment at the college totaled 727 last fall, with 700 students in degree programs leading to the bachelor of science in aerospace engineering, the bachelor of science in aeronautics and a two-year associate in science degree.

The college is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and is recognized by the Veterans Administration.

The facility includes 54 full-time and four part-time instructors.

Parks College was founded as a flight instruction school by Oliver L. Parks on August 1, 1927, at St. Louis Municipal Airport. In April 1928, it was moved to the Cahokia site.

On Oct. 17, 1946, Parks College became a part of St. Louis U., largely as a gift of its founder. Parks was the first federally-approved aviation college in the U.S. and at one time was the world's largest flying school.

Garden Data Center Created At GC Library

The Gardenaires Garden club has established a "mini-garden center" at the Granite City public library.

Mrs. A. A. Molotki jr., president, reports, "Our club object is to inspire others to seek beauty in nature. We felt a garden center dedicated to the enjoyment and education of the public for the advancement of gardening should be located at our library."

"We hope that it will become a clearance house for garden problems and ideas, as well as an educational center for those eager to learn."

Mrs. Cecil Williams, the club's library chairman, will be responsible for selection of books and coordinated materials to be displayed. Mrs. Williams has catalogued all the library's horticultural resource materials and will be able to help anyone needing advice on locating specific topics.

The opening display for the garden center is on "Roses" and is coordinated with a free public program scheduled at the Wilson Park recreation center at 7:30 p.m. April 8.

Due to the interest last year in two public forums sponsored by the club and held at Wilson Park, the Gardenaires again are serving as the sponsor. At the first forum, on April 8, C. E. Eads, consulting roscarian for Illinois and Indiana of the American Rose Society, will be the main speaker.

Wayne Siefert, ornamental horticulturist of the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, also will be on hand to answer questions from the audience. All interested in the selection, care and protection of roses are being urged to attend.

New College Created At Carbondale Campus

A new College of Communications and Fine Arts for the Southern Illinois University-Carbondale campus was approved Friday by the SIU Board of trustees, meeting in the International Conference Room at the SIU-SW University Center.

The reorganization proposed by Chancellor Robert W. MacVicar combines the present College of Communications and the School of Fine Arts. A similar alignment of departments under the title, Division of Fine Arts, "has worked extremely well at the SIU-SW campus the past six years," Dr. MacVicar commented.

The chancellor said the merger is a step forward, adding that the faculties of the departments involved "are to be complemented for a relationship with the consolidation." He noted that SIU "pioneered a school of Communications when the program was established 20 years ago and while the original approach was not traditional, it was a very good one."

MacVicar said the significant relationship between the combined units has long been recognized. He pointed out that theatre, photography and cinematography now in Communications are closely related to areas in Fine Arts, while units within Fine Arts are handicapped by jurisdictional and administrative barriers which hamper full cooperation with units in Communications.

Because of their size and the scope of their programs, the present departments of Journalism, Art and Music will be designed as "schools" in the new college. Other units included are the departments of Photography and Cinematography, Radio-Television, Speech Pathology and Audiology and Theatre.

Dean of the new college will be C. Horton Talley, now dean of the College of Communications. He came to SIU as chairman of the speech department in 1948 and was named dean in 1955.

MacVicar explained that Burnett Shryock, dean of Fine Arts at Carbondale since 1965, is on leave and has asked to be relieved of administrative responsibilities following a serious auto accident in which he and his wife were injured.

The only unit not affected under the merger is the Department of Design, which will be independent, temporarily, with expectation that it will be affiliated with another unit now in the formation process.

Architects Named for SIU-SW Dental School

Southern Illinois University trustees at a board meeting Friday at the University-Southwestern campus named Smith, Hinchman and Grylls Associates, Inc., as architects for the SIU-SW School of Dental Medicine.

The firm's work will include production of plans for remodeling facilities at the Alton center and consideration of long-range plans for new facilities on the SIU-SW campus. Selection of the architectural and engineering firm was based on recommendations of design consultants for the Southwest campus, University Architect Charles Pulley, SIU-SW Chancellor John S. Rendleman and Dr. Frank Sobkowski, dean of the School of Dental Medicine.

Extensive Experience

The architectural firm's experience in planning and designing dental and medical facilities is extensive, the board was advised. Its past projects include the School of Dentistry at the University of Iowa and dental schools at Dalhousie University, Halifax, Nova Scotia, University of Louisville, University of Colorado and University of Michigan.

Medically related facilities planned by the firm include projects at the Air Force Aerospace Medical Division, San Antonio, Tex., Detroit Memorial Hospital, Space Administration Manned Spacecraft Center in Texas, Michigan State University, the University of Saigon and Yonsei University in Seoul, Korea.

A recommendation by Dr. Delyte Morris for employment of Smith, Hinchman & Grylls to handle the programming, master planning and complete architectural services for development of the new dental school was previously tabled to enable the trustees to review processes in selecting engineers and architects for university projects.

Methods Challenged
Despite approval of the firm, Friday criticism was voiced by two board members, Dr. Martin Van Brown and Eugene T. Simonds, both of Carbondale. The criticism was of choosing planning firms and architects.

A Board of Architectural Consultation, composed of the deans of departments of architecture at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Yale University and Washington University, St. Louis, was authorized to serve in an advisory capacity to SIU administrators in November 1966, a practice that is still followed, Dr. Morris explained.

Dr. Brown commented, "Maybe it is about time we brought in some people from the Urbana area... more Midwest-oriented." Trustees agreed to a suggestion by Simonds on formation of a study group, consisting of university personnel and a board representative, to explore means of updating and upgrading present procedures.

Noting that a major source of new dentists shortly will be eliminated with closing of the St. Louis University School of Dentistry, SIU-SW Chancellor Rendleman said speed is essential in preparing the Alton center to accept dental students by the 1971 fall semester.

He said remodeling of Shortleft College, part of the Alton facility, will be the initial step, with construction of a dental school building at the main SIU-SW campus later.

The chancellor noted that junior and senior dental students complete final requirements through practical work on patients. This part of the dental instruction program can be accomplished at dispersed clinical centers in various area communities, he explained.

National Delegate

Dr. Brown was named to represent the board as a delegate to the Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges, to meet in San Francisco April 19-20.

In other action, the trustees approved appointment of Arthur M. Hale, personnel director at SIU-SW, and Frank Hartman of the Carbondale campus as employer's representatives to the State University Civil Service System Merit Board. Board members declined, to authorize Dr. Morris to designate future appointees to the same campus posts.

Updated with minor changes was a lease agreement between the Southern Airport Authority and SIU, which operates the airport, located between Carbondale and Murphysboro.

ties—Granite City, Madison and Venice—in the event efforts to prevent the eventual closing of the installation are unsuccessful.

The mayor said the Depot area could provide land, buildings and facilities for housing, recreation, an industrial park and other community developments.

He said merger of the three municipalities into one city should be taken if necessary to take advantage of the opportunity which the Depot area would offer.

Loan Repaid Early

Comptroller Carl Byrnes reported during the meeting that he had received a check for $100,000 in motor fuel tax funds from the state. The money represents MFT allocations that were held up during repayment of a $20 million loan; the money had been borrowed for the state's general fund from the motor fuel tax fund.

Mayor Lee pointed out that the loan was repaid several months earlier than had been expected and that the state now is paying to the cities and counties their shares of funds which had been used to make the loan.

The money may be used only for motor fuel taxes, the mayor noted. He said it will be invested in time certificates to draw interest until it is needed to help finance the city's share of the cost of construction of the Broadway traffic underpass, on which excavation work now is under way.

Bridge Repair Contract

The council concurred in recommendations of Hardesty & Hanover, New York engineers for McKinley Bridge bondholders, on award of a contract to J. S. Alberici Construction Co. of St. Louis for repair work on the bridge.

City Attorney Harry E. Hartman said the work consists of three separate projects, all involving replacement of expansion joints, and is estimated to cost $13,915 under the proposed contract with the Alberici firm. Hartman told the council that the New York engineers recommended the negotiated bid with the Alberici Co. because additional engineering fees necessary for calling competitive bids would increase the overall cost of the project by $200.

Spring Street Plans

Jay Maurer, street superintendent, told the council his department plans to begin city-wide repair of streets as soon as a break in the weather permits.

Long periods of freezing weather, snow and ice have caused chipping in many streets, he said. Gravel will be planned as soon as possible.

Chief of Police John Essing reported that his department made 31 arrests during February. The city received $739 in fines from disposition of the cases in court, the chief said.

State to Aid Cities, But Not Dictate, Speaker Says

Illinois' newly created Department of Local Government Affairs will aid communities which come to the department for help but will not put itself in the position of telling cities what to do, Robert Lenhausen, recently appointed director of the department, said Thursday night.

Addressing a regular quarterly meeting of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, he outlined purposes and objectives of the new unit of state government, created by the Illinois legislature last spring.

Lenhausen told the meeting the department will study the problems of cities asking its assistance and will make recommendations, but that the state is not financially obliged to help communities in trouble.

"Under the Illinois Constitution, the state has no responsibility for cities and villages, but there are those of us who think it should," Lenhausen said.

Need Three Airports

Lenhausen, former mayor of Peoria, who was appointed head of the new local affairs department by Governor Ogilvie last October, said Illinois needs three jet airports—not just the one proposed in the Madison-St. Clair counties area. He said major airports are in great need in the Chicago area and for the Bloomington-Springfield-Peoria triangle.

His department has nothing to say about picking a site of the proposed major airport in the Madison-St. Clair metropolitan area because the state planning function has to be in the governor's office, Lenhausen said. His department has only a $25,000 appropriation for a transportation study, he noted.

Lenhausen explained that his department still is in the process of organization and consists of an Office of Community Services, an Office of Housing and Buildings, an Office of Financial Affairs and an Office of Research and Planning.

City Can Go Bankrupt

In response to a question from the audience, Lenhausen said that it is constitutionally possible for a city to go bankrupt when it is without funds and cannot borrow additional money.

The question, in reference to East St. Louis, brought a comment from Theodore Milesell, executive director of SIMAPC, that Fort Lee, N.J., declared bankruptcy in 1953 and had its affairs administered by a three-judge federal court.

Lenhausen remarked that he was familiar with some of the problems of East St. Louis, which he said is in "serious" trouble because it uses 35% of its annual revenue to pay interest on borrowed money.

Several representatives of smaller communities told Lenhausen their communities have financial problems because of services the state has ordered them to provide, with no provision for funds to finance them.

County Assistance

Unless the state constitution is revised for new legislation is passed, it will be necessary for counties to provide financial assistance to cities and townships, Lenhausen said.

He said it is up to the county board of supervisors to determine how county receipts of state income tax funds are to be distributed, he told the group.

The meeting, at which C. G. Chenoweth of Belleville served as acting chairman, was held in the Round Table restaurant, Collinsville.

Kelly Family Seeks Child's Pet Poodle

An all-white miniature poodle, a child's pet, is being sought by Police Sgt. and Mrs. Everett Kelly, 2839 Grand avenue. The four-year-old male dog is friendly and is tagged with a rabies disc, inscribed with its name, "Cookie Kelly," the address and telephone number, the owner said.

The animal has been missing since March 22. Anyone knowing the dog's whereabouts is asked to call Sgt. Kelly at 877-1723.

a meeting and dinner session on Saturday, April 11. An additional 200 delegates are expected to attend a general meeting session on Sunday, beginning at 10 a.m. A noon luncheon and a smorgasbord at 4:30 p.m. have been arranged. An election of officers will be held during the business sessions.

Local 435 of the Retail Store Employees' Union was chartered in 1900 and now has a total of approximately 600 members.

The SIU-SW soccer team, which will play in an international soccer tournament in Dublin, Ireland, Saturday, March 28 through April 4, will play a warm-up game against St. Luke's College of Exeter, England, tonight.

The Cougar Kickers of Coach Bob Guelker, the only American college or university soccer team ever to play in a European tournament, flew from St. Louis' Lambert Field by jet Saturday afternoon.

Their first-round opponent in the tournament is not known yet by Guelker. The Cougars are slated to play their first game on the night of March 28; each of the schools will play at least three games, and the Cougars could meet as many as six if "we go all the way."

Twenty-two players made the trip. Guelker is being assisted by Joe Baum and Wilfred 'Bud' Buddell, SIU-SW athletic trainer.

The other colleges and universities in the tournament, which is sponsored by University College, Dublin, are: Malta; Glasgow, Scotland; Leicester, England; Queens College, Oxford, England; Aberdeen, Scotland; Kent, England; and Schofield, England.

Guelker had not heard whether the four other schools which have been invited to play have accepted. They are Charles University, Czechoslovakia; Westphalia, West Germany; and two from Holland — Nijmegen and Amstelveen.

Warriors Will Open 1970 Baseball Season

The weatherman is giving a good word for tomorrow's 4 p.m. GCBS baseball season opener with Mater Dei of Brees at Wilson Park. The ground is soggy today but Tuesday is expected to be sunny and warmer.

The good word from Coach Gale Garbe is a generally physically fit team. A Saturday squad game resulted in few errors and solid hitting. Eshed hurlers took part and showed good control.

Veteran Jeff Boyles, potential No. 1 man on the mound, will likely make the starting battery with letterman Dave Evans.

Junior Don Harris, last year's only sophomore starter, will probably have his place at second base. Letterman Jerry Monahan is expected to help defend the outfield and pair with Harris in the batting order.

Ron Simpson, Eddie Hagauer and Don Haddix will hold seniority in the bullpen.

On Friday, GCBS will be at Roxana and on March 31 it will open Southwestern Conference play at Wood River.

1920 GCBS HARDWOOD TEAM. Playing basketball for Granite City high 50 years ago (from left to right) were Richard Rees, Ralph Frohardt, Hayden "Chips" Chappie and Roland Mueller, who helped bring home the Madison-St. Clair counties' first basketball championship. They are still Granite City residents. Others on the squad were Aloys Schlechte, who now resides in Florida, and the late Sidney Winters, Walter Francis and Hugh Kraus.

'Sinners' Top 'Saints' 59-55 in Benefit Game

It was youth over age and experience as the "Sinners" defeated the "Saints" 59 to 55 in the second annual benefit basketball game sponsored by the Knights of Columbus church Friday night at the Namur school gym. Last year's game was won by the "Saints" by a 61 to 43 score.

Proceeds of the game, which was followed by a dance, will be contributed to Newman Foundations at state colleges and universities.

An overflow crowd watched the "Sinners" (K. of C. officers), coached by Edward Trutsch, overcome an early eight-point deficit through the shooting of Mike Modrusic.

The "Saints," consisting of area priests and seminarians, were led by the back-court players Reys, Kevin Sullivan and Martin Morgan and the "fantastic" shooting of seminarian Jim Elam as they climbed to within two points in the final minute of play.

But the "Sinners," who were 10-point underdogs, dealt the telling blow as Mike Schuler sank a 6½-foot jump shot with 10 seconds remaining to put the game on ice.

Featured at the dance was the Duke Dudley combo, with music provided through the trust fund of the American Federation of Musicians through the courtesy of AFM Local 717.

Miss Linda Woods Becomes Bride of Donald White

A double-ring ceremony Saturday afternoon at St. Henry's Catholic Church in Nashville, Tenn., united in marriage Miss Linda Camille Woods, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Woods, 4089 Venice avenue, and Donald J. White, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard White, 411 Royal Oaks drive, Nashville.

Arrangements of lilies in golden altar vases, surrounded with clusters of Cibotium fern and spiral candelabra, provided the setting for the nuptial vows. Rev. James P. Sullins officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony.

Mrs. Everett Hozapfel presided at the organ and Mrs. John Burns, vocalist, sang "On This Day," "Because" and "Ave Maria."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length Empire gown of candlelight organza over bridal taffeta, featuring long puffed sleeves and a wedding ring neckline. Chantilly lace covered the bodice and neckline and cascaded down the sleeves and front of the gown. A chapel train edged in lace was secured at the waistline and a mantilla cap of lace and pearls held in place a shoulder-length bouffant veil of candlelight illusion. Yellow sweetheart roses, stephanotis and baby's breath were combined in the bride's bouquet.

Miss Christie Dufner was maid of honor, and Miss Barbara Harrison of Collinsville, and Mrs. Richard L. Speed, of Nashville, the bridesmaids, served as bridesmaids.

They wore gowns of coffee-colored chiffon and candlelight saki with natural waistline, accented with wide cummerbunds. The bodices of chiffon had long puffed sleeves with cuffs, collars and skirts of candlelight saki. Picture hats of Matching hairband trimmed with brown velvet ribbon came.

plemented the costumes as did bouquets of roses, tulips, and daisies shading from yellow to Tropicana, with brown velvet streamers.

A little flower girl, Pamela Speed, niece of the bridegroom, wore a candlelight batiste dress over taffeta trimmed with Chantilly lace with a brown sash, and carried a nosegay of Tropicana roses. She was escorted by the ring bearer, Trey White, a nephew of the bridegroom.

The bridegroom's father was best man, and Craig Woods, brother of the bride, and Thomas White Jr. of Chattanooga, Tenn., Jerry D. Fridrich and Richard Speed, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom, made up the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Mrs. Wood, mother of the bride, chose for the wedding a coat and dress ensemble of apricot silk linen. Venice lace encircled the natural waistline and cascaded down the skirt. Apricot accessories and a whimsy veil and bow of matching silk linen completed the ensemble. The bridegroom's mother wore an aqua silk dress with pearl trim, a matching coat and accessories, and aqua bubble veil. Both mothers carried candelabra orchids attached to their purses.

A reception was held in the social rooms of the church directly after the ceremony. Mrs. John Hurt was in charge of the guest book.

The former Miss Woods attended schools in Nashville, and graduated in 1988 from Granite City high school. She also attended a fashion and finishing school in Clayton, Mo.

Mr. White is a senior at the University of Tennessee, majoring in marketing and accounting, and is vice-president of his fraternity, Kappa Sigma.

WED IN SOUTH. Mrs. Donald J. White, the former Linda Woods, who was married Saturday afternoon in Nashville, Tenn.

After a honeymoon in Florida and the Bahamas, the newlyweds will live in Nashville.

The rehearsal dinner was given Friday evening by the bridegroom's parents at the Richland Country Club in Nashville. Those attending beside the wedding party, were all out-of-town guests.

The latter included, beside the bride's parents, Mrs. Lillie Dorich, grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Castello, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Greathouse, Brian and Carol

GOP Faction in City Committee Wins 3 Offices

An opposition move by a faction of Granite City GOP precinct committeemen to unseat Roy Lynn as chairman of the Republican City Central committee failed in a committee reorganization meeting Friday night, but Lynn's opponents charged three other committeemen and agreed to the election of a fourth without opposition.

Lynn succeeded in defeating Lester Thiele, committeeman of Precinct 28, who was nominated and supported by a faction of Republicans opposed to Lynn's chairmanship of the city committee, by a vote of 516 to 426 which was held on the basis of the GOP vote cast in the committeemen's respective precincts.

In a subsequent vote, however, Thiele and Ralph Astor, Precinct 10, both members of the opposition faction, defeated Jess Parks, Precinct 14, and Ernest Velh, Jr., Precinct 17, Lynn-supported candidates.

Werner Elected Treasurer. In secretary was selected, Lynn's election to his third term as chairman and that of two vice-chairmen were "secret ballots" which were agreed to by Lynn after considerable debate, although Lynn insisted that each ballot contain the number of votes appearing on the precinct.

In return, the opposition group insisted the votes be counted by two appointed tellers, one from each faction, and that the ballots then be destroyed so they could not be used to identify voters.

Charles "Bill" Barnes were appointed as tellers. They reported the results and destroyed the ballots.

Lynn supporters also challenged the right to vote of Raymond Thiele, Precinct 30, brother of Lester Thiele, and Don Paul Simon, Precinct 31, on grounds that both had voted Democratic in the 1968 elections and therefore were not qualified as candidates for precinct committeemen in this year's Republican election.

Lynn, however, permitted both to vote in the ensuing election of officers. He said after the meeting that the status of the two as committeemen would be determined by County Clerk Fulda, who is expected to complete the vote canvass and issue certificates of election this week.

Members of the opposition group, on the other hand, charged that there was no basis for challenging Thiele and Simon, since they were not precinct-qualified committeemen, since none of the committeemen at the meeting had yet received their certificates of election. They described the meeting and election as "an entirely illegal proceeding."

Twenty-eight committeemen appeared at the meeting which was held in Lynn's home at 2554 State street. Precinct 8 failed to elect a committeeman, while in Precinct 32 voters by write-in ballots elected Gerald Furnley, city alderman, as GOP committeeman. Parley, however, is a Democrat.

At the 23rd street and Mel post, two other committeemen were ill, Lynn reported.

MacVicar Reviews 6 Years At SIU, SIU-SW Campuses

(This article was written by Pete Brown of the Southern Illinois University News Services staff and is the first of a series.)

The birth and growth of the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus is cited by Carbondale Chancellor Robert MacVicar as the most important thing that's happened at SIU since he has been associated with it.

After six years at SIU, MacVicar will leave July 1 to become president of Oregon State University. He served first as vice president for academic affairs, then as chancellor of SIU at Carbondale when that post was created in 1968.

During his days as academic vice president for both campuses, MacVicar was a regular commuter between Carbondale and his Edwardsville office 100 miles away.

"I invested a lot of time and effort in the Edwardsville development, and retrospectively I have very warm feelings about it," MacVicar said. "It was a striking thing—a whole new campus on a new site—to see it grow from 5000 to over 12,000 students. Clearly it is the most remarkable thing that's occurred to SIU in the past five or six years."

MacVicar, who was instrumental in knitting together the Edwardsville administrative structure and academic program, says he may have caused unhappiness by not pushing graduate studies faster at the new campus.

"But I hope they feel now that the timing was right; that we waited just long enough and not too long to start graduate studies in the liberal arts and sciences." In MacVicar's first year, Southwestern offered only a master's degree in education at the post-graduate level. It's possible now to get a master's in 25 approved programs throughout six academic divisions.

MacVicar said the "One University" concept that prevailed before creation of chancellor's positions for the two campuses was good for Southwestern, even though it was hard on commuting administrators.

"Edwardsville got the benefit of central administration competence and knowledge that they couldn't have acquired if they'd tried to evolve independently. But after some time on the job, I did become convinced that the length of time such an arrangement could work was limited by several factors."

Edwardsville and Carbondale are really different institutions; their missions are different; the student bodies are quite different; the faculty and attitudes are different. You had to keep changing your own attitudes as an administrator. However, I make no bones about the feeling that I enjoyed it and I think the results of administration in academic affairs will be positive and beneficial to the long range."

Almost as striking, said MacVicar, has been the improvement in the quality of students and faculty at Carbondale, during an explosive growth period. "Since I've been here, SIU grew from 13,000 to 23,000 students. As this was happening, the University was maturing very rapidly. It was drawing not only more students, but better ones; not only more faculty, but faculty of higher quality. It gathered over complicated mathematics with teams like 'ground triangulations' and 'map coordinates' and come up with the assistant professor level." MacVicar said that many of the persons appointed in 1965 and 1966 "are now maturing into scholars and teachers of real promise."

The most talked-about accomplishment of MacVicar's six years was the founding of a School of Medicine at Carbondale. The state Board of Higher Education, which had been considering a second state-supported medical program, gave the nod to SIU after MacVicar presented his so-called "School Without Walls" concept. Heart of the proposal was a plan which would utilize existing hospital and clinic facilities, linked with biological and health-related curricula already in existence at the university. The plan also streamlined medical education by trimming one to two years off the long degree timetable, and provided for paraprofessional medical education far away from health centers.

With 1970 Census

U. S. Center of Population To Move 30 Miles to West

Late in October 1970, when population totals from the 19th decennial census are firm, the Bureau of the Census and the Coast and Geodetic Survey—sister agencies of the U. S. Department of Commerce—will get to work on the center of population. The center of population is the point where the population of the United States is divided into two equal halves. It is the point where the population of the United States is divided into two equal halves. It is the point where the population of the United States is divided into two equal halves.

MacVicar disclaims much of the credit for the school. "The language of the document was mine and the challenge was the first thing President Delye W. Morris laid on me when I came in 1964. But it grew out of discussions with many people, particularly Dr. Stanley Olson (former University of Illinois College of Medicine Dean, now dean at Baylor University), and members of the Higher Board's committee on Education in the Health Field."

MacVicar said the traditional pattern of creating a teaching hospital obviously wasn't the answer because of changes wrought by Medicare and Medicaid programs. He cautioned about getting stuck with the new approach, too. "This is one of the things that has happened in higher education; we've gotten accustomed to doing certain things in certain ways. We need to be more flexible than we historically have been."

(Next: MacVicar views SIU's future.)

Why AMIBEN is today's No. 1 soybean herbicide

Because it gives you, in your choice of liquid concentrate or granules, the broadest range weed and grass control on the market.

Other soybean herbicides are essentially grass killers. AMIBEN® preemergence weedkiller not only controls a full range of grasses but also, as a bonus, controls a full range of broadleaf weeds. In fact, Amiben controls more grassy weeds and more broadleaf weeds than any competitive chemical you can buy.

Amiben gives you these advantages with safety to your crop (even in wet weather), safety to adjacent crops and to crops you may plant on the same ground next year. Other soybean herbicides may perform well within their own limits, but they are no match for Amiben... the nearest thing to a perfect soybean weed and grass killer that science has yet come up with. That's why more farmers use Amiben than any other soybean herbicide.

COMMAND PILOT HONORED. The Distinguished Flying Cross is pinned on Chief Warrant Officer David A. Bourbon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Bourbon, 2455 Waterman avenue, by Col. Nguyen Ba Thin tu Long, in ceremonies at Kontum, Republic of Vietnam. The helicopter pilot won three DFCs, among other awards, during his combat tour.

Decorated 'Copter Pilot Home On 30-Day Leave

For leading a successful flight to reinforce a small defense force engaged in heavy ground contact with the enemy, a Granite City helicopter pilot received the Distinguished Flying Cross in ceremonies conducted four weeks ago at Kontum, South Vietnam.

Chief Warrant Officer, David A. Bourbon, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Bourbon, 2455 Waterman avenue, arrived home recently from Vietnam, where he served the past 12 months with the 17th Air Cavalry Division.

A pilot of a Cobra gunship, the local serviceman won three Distinguished Flying Crosses, the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry with Silver Star, the Bronze Star Medal for Meritorious Service and more than 30 awards of the Air Medal, during his tour of duty.

In ceremonies Feb. 26 at Kontum, Col. Nguyen Ba Thin tu Long presented CWO Bourbon the Distinguished Flying Cross (First Oak Leaf Cluster). The citation accompanying the medal read in part:

"For heroism while participating in aerial flight evidenced by voluntary actions above and beyond the call of duty: Chief Warrant Officer Bourbon distinguished himself by exceptionally valorous action on Nov. 1, 1969, while serving as pilot in command of a team of two gunships.

"The ships were covering the night insertion of two allied Mobile Strike Force companies who were to reinforce a small defending force in heavy contact near Bu Prang, CWO Bourbon effectively utilized his team to provide landing zone preparation and to cover the insertion.

"Since several enemy anti-aircraft weapons were known to be operating in the area, he instructed the transport helicopters to darken their ships, while he turned on his position lights for them to navigate by. Since his aircraft was the only one visible to the enemy, and cloud ceilings forced flight at low level, his aircraft immediately became the target of intense fire.

"Despite grave danger to which he exposed himself, he personally led each helicopter into the landing zone where they successfully reinforced the defending force. Without the courageous efforts of CWO Bourbon, the insertion could not have been accomplished. His actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit and the U. S. Army."

The local gunship pilot arrived in Phan Thiet, Vietnam, last March 26, and earned the Air Medal for active participation in more than 25 aerial missions over hostile territory during a 14-day period which started only one week after his arrival.

He has since accumulated more than 20 Air Medal awards each representing 25 missions or more over hostile territorial areas, the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry, Bronze Star and two other DFC awards.

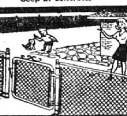

A 1968 graduate of Granite City high school, CWO Bourbon joined the Army in June 1967. He trained at Gray Air Force Base in Killeen, Tex., and received his commission and wings after advanced flight training at Hunter Air Force Base, Savannah, Ga., on July 29, 1968.

Currently home on a 30-day furlough, the serviceman will report to Fort Lewis, Wash., for assignment. He expects to remain in service until next January.

She Didn't Vote, She Had a Reason

She is Mrs. Walter Scarborough, 69 years old, who resides at 2804 Nameoki road.

An election worker had arrived at her home to take her to the polls and noticed that Mrs. Scarborough's face was spotted.

The driver, Mrs. Gerry Hoover, immediately determined the reason for the spots and informed Mrs. Scarborough that she had chicken pox.

Mrs. Scarborough said she could not believe it, but a call to her physician confirmed it. She said all of her children and grandchildren had chicken pox, and she had been with a great granddaughter the day before the child broke out with the pox.

But for a 69-year-old woman? Impossible, she said. She said she had been itching to go and vote, but that itch she felt for the following few days.

U. S. Tax Law Revises Standard Deduction, Creates Low Income Allowance and Sets Rate Ceiling

(Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants)

Although the Tax Reform Act of 1969 contained no general tax rate changes for the ordinary income of individuals, every individual will be affected by at least one of several changes which were made in the tax burden.

Affecting all taxpayers are hikes in the personal and dependency exemptions. Formerly $600 each, they are scheduled to increase to $625 for 1970; $650 for 1971; $700 for 1972; and $750 for 1973 and subsequent years.

Another change of large general interest is the increase in the percentage of standard deduction.

Presently 10%, with a maximum of $1000, it is scheduled to increase to 13% with a maximum of $1500 for 1971; 14% and $2000 for 1972; and 15% and $2000 for 1973 and subsequent years.

These increases will have the effect of reversing a trend under which an increasing number of individuals were discontinuing the standard deduction in favor of itemizing deductions.

Accompanying the increases in the percentage standard deduction is a new low income allowance.

The effect of it is to provide a tax exemption for low income taxpayers which is even larger than that afforded by the percentage standard deduction.

After a phasing-in process, the low income allowance will be $1000 in 1972 and following years, so that in 1972 a single person will pay no tax on his first $1700 of income.

In 1973 and thereafter, when the personal exemption is $750, a single person will pay no tax on his first $1750 of income.

For those persons who have large amounts of earned income, there will be a maximum rate on earned income. The maximum rate is 60% for 1971, and 50% for 1972 and subsequent years.

The maximum rate will apply to that top segment of earned income which otherwise would be taxed at rates ranging from 50% (60% for 1971) up to the maximum individual tax rate of 70%.

It is anticipated that this provision will make the earnings of ordinary income more popular and will result in a corresponding decrease of interest in deferred compensation arrangements, efforts to secure capital gains, and tax shelters generally.

Commencing in 1971, a new tax rate schedule will apply to single persons. At that time there will be four tax tables.

From the least costly to the most costly, these tables will be (1) married individuals filing joint returns (including "surviving spouses"); (2) heads of households; (3) unmarried individuals (other than surviving spouses and heads of households); and (4) married individuals filing separate returns.

Finally, adjustments are being made in the income tax withholding on wages in order to bring taxes withheld closer to an employee's final tax liability.

A significant change will eliminate the requirement of withholding for taxpayers, such as students with summer jobs, who incur no final tax liability and who previously have had to file tax returns for the sole purpose of claiming a refund of taxes.

and perhaps other elements will be continued on a relatively permanent basis.

But if inactivity does occur and the bulk of the 28-year-old military base is disposed of, we think recreation and residential planning should remain in perspective; it may be possible for both of the old objectives to be met, but a third and extremely important goal must be conversion of substantial Depot grounds and buildings to industrial use.

There are many ways Depot land could be kept busy, but what ought not to be lost sight of is that the spending patterns of Quad-City area taxing agencies are rendering the property tax base inadequate. It is vital to every taxpayer that the burden of financing local-level government be shared by additional companies than those presently operating here.

The jobs and tax payments which new manufacturing firms could provide would bolster existing public services and also provide a favorable economic climate in which new subdivisions, new parks and facilities and other community improvements could be built and financed.

Granite City's 75th Year Approaching

Among a number of anniversaries due to be observed during the 1970s is the 75th anniversary of the city of Granite City, whose 1896 founding makes it technically the oldest local city. The municipality will mark its diamond jubilee in 1971.

Venice and Madison are older but did not convert to cities as soon as Granite City, which was never a village.

Madison became a village in 1891 and celebrated its 75th year on June 27-July 4, 1966. Its history as a city dates from 1942.

Venice will have cause to celebrate in either 1972 or 1973, or both. In 1972, it will have been 75 years since it was incorporated as a city; in 1973, it will have been a century since the establishment of the village of Venice.

Madison county observed its 150th anniversary in September 1962 and the state of Illinois reached the sesquicentennial with a year-long sequentennial celebration in 1968.

C. P. Whitehead Retiring After 51 Years

After 51 years of distinguished association with the general steel industry, Board Chairman Charles Powell Whitehead richly deserves the retirement period that he has asked to begin effective with the annual meeting of shareholders here April 16.

But we cannot avoid a feeling of regret because of the great help he has been to this community and to General Steel, which has grown and thrived under his leadership.

It is fitting that the transfer will take place at the Castings Division in Granite City, initial location of the now broadly-diversified corporation.

Long Public Service by the Ladies' Coterie

Many seasons have come and gone, the generations have continued their ceaseless advance, and only a handful of Quad-City residents remain alive who can remember the day. But the educational and service activities of the Ladies Coterie remain much the same now as on March 25, 1895, when the founding group of four ladies first met in Granite City. Local residents applaud the oldest local federated club and wish for it another 75 busy, enjoyable and constructive years.

Sharing of Government Services, Elimination of Some Agencies Urged

By DR. ALICE L. EBEL Professor of Political Science, Illinois State University

Local government in the U. S. is faced with the dilemma of chaotic fragmentation on one hand and demands for greater economy and efficiency on the other.

In addition to the federal government and 50 states, there were 81,246 other units of government in 1967. The number of units of government has increased since that time.

Each has some bit of government authority—it can raise money, and act as a corporate person as it exercises its authority.

McLean county, for example, has a county government plus 31 township, 21 municipal and two sanitary districts, one airport authority, one library district, two park districts, two cemetery districts, 22 fire protection districts and 17 school districts.

In addition, there are two housing authorities, 14 drainage districts and a countywide soil conservation district. None of these has taxing power, although they have other governmental powers.

The trend toward fewer U.S. governmental units in the last 25 years has been in school districts, which have been merged and elimination of counties and a gradual disappearance of township government.

A characteristic of the fragmented governmental system is smallness in population, area and taxable resources of many local units.

These are almost inevitable in rural municipalities and counties, but exist in the suburban urban system around major cities, where smallness is consciously sought and deliberately planned.

The fragmented system is a reflection of our traditional values. The desire on the part of individuals to live under a government whose destiny they feel they can control and direct has been held from our earliest days. Linked with self-government is the concept of smallness in size as a concomitant essential to self-rule.

Jefferson saw this as a "republic in miniature," the council-manager form of government, non-partisan elections, the short ballot, merit system, and separation of administration and policy-making in government.

Much of this stemmed from the fact that some people lost control of their governments to corrupt bosses and machines at the turn of the century.

Later, the technological explosion brought about economic changes that seem to make it impossible for people to live in small isolated communities. The belief grew that principles of economy and efficiency must be applied to government.

It has led to such things as the council-manager form of government, non-partisan elections, the short ballot, merit system, and separation of administration and policy-making in government.

But movements in this direction have produced little lessening of the fragmentation of government. A few "metro" governments have been created, combining city and county, as Nashville and Davidson county in Tennessee and Miami and Dade county in Florida.

Suburbs have generally fought this movement, and a new governmental reform movement in the cities seeks "neighborhood" units of government to be more responsive to the needs of minorities and the poor.

Can we continue with small, often inefficient and uneconomical units of government, which satisfy some of our values, and at the same time meet the human needs and desires for continually expanding in scope?

Some political scientists think so. Some believe that chaotic government by fragmented units works because important government activities are not the exclusive province of any one segment of government but, instead, of several segments of government acting in concert, jointly sharing functions.

Other political scientists, however, see a trend toward consolidation of government units of power, one all-encompassing government, with power increasingly concentrated at the center.

To prevent this, a drastic overhaul of the many small governmental units may be necessary to eliminate the ones which are no longer vital and viable, yet retaining others.

But success in this direction will depend upon individuals in the government who are willing to take responsibility and to make commitments to the success of the shared programs in which the units with which they identify are involved.

It will demand an attachment to the kind of popular control that small units make possible.

As I believe in one government serving all the people, it is not a matter of "either-or," it is a matter of "both-and."

RETIREMENT FUND TAX RULING MAY BE CHANGED

To the Editor:

In recent days, I have had several inquiries and have heard rumors to the effect that Illinois income tax refunds would not be paid this year.

This rumor is, of course, absolutely false; refunds will not be paid this year. It is true that the operation of the income tax, it is true that refund checks may not be as timely as one would wish, but they will be coming.

The rumor probably started because no provision for refund was incorporated into the income tax Act during the spring session. But Senate Bill 1267, allowing for an appropriation of $40 million was passed during the October session.

This special appropriation bill was necessary, of course, because no check can be drawn upon the state treasury without legislative approval. SB 1267 allowed for this approval. It was by the way, one of the most popular bills to pass the legislature. The vote was absolutely unanimous in both the House and the Senate.

While on the subject of the income tax, I frankly believe an inequitable ruling has been made, or assumed, in the case of taxes that may be payable on certain lump sum severance payments or retirement funds. As "the book" now says, a person retiring and withdrawing his accrued retirement funds must pay taxes on the total contribution not previously taxed to the company's share.

Actually, in most cases, the bulk of these funds were "earned" and deposited before the Aug. 1, 1969, inception of the Illinois income tax. I believe this to be an unfair ruling, and that these funds should be "revalued" as of that date.

If the courts don't make what I think is a fair ruling soon, then the legislature should change the wording so that the provision, and the intent, is clear.

Employment weakened in February. Unemployment rose sharply for the second consecutive month, while non-farm employment inched down and the manufacturing work-week edged up.

The overall jobs rate was 4.2% in February, up from 3.8% in January and one would expect the rate to rise even further in March.

The manufacturing work-week edged up, largely among sales workers. For those covered by state unemployment insurance programs, the rate rose from 2.5% to 2.7%, its highest point since last August, and the jobs rate for factory workers has climbed sharply.

SPRING BRIDE, Mrs. Mark Barnett. Her wedding took place Saturday evening at St. John United Church of Christ. She is the former Cynthia Lee Tonsor.

Barnett and Tonsor Wedding Saturday at St. John Church

Miss Cynthia Lee Tonsor became Mrs. Mark Barnett in an exchange of wedding vows Saturday evening at St. John United Church of Christ on Nameoki road.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Tonsor, 2106 Woodlawn avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barnett of East St. Louis.

Rev. Paul Surbey performed the ceremony at 7 o'clock, and a reception was held directly afterward in the church basement.

The bride's gown of ivory satin was styled in a high neckline trimmed with Alencon lace. Lace also covered the bodice and sheer yoke and motifs of the lace accented the tightly curled sleeves, as well as the A-line skirt and the detachable train which swept from the waistline. The skirt and train were bordered with more of the lace and a half moon profile of bows with lace and pearls secured the bride's tiered veil. She carried an English bridal cascade of white roses.

Miss Claudia Tonsor, maid of honor, and Miss Sally Barnett, bridesmaid, were dressed alike in royal purple crepe. The Empire line bodices had long, full sleeves, the Empire outlined with a matching purple braided. Large cameo brooches accented the necklines and headpieces were purple crepe bows. They carried single long stem pink roses.

Little Christy Tonsor was flower girl and Glenn Tonsor Jr. served as ring bearer. The groom was dressed like the older girls.

Mr. Barnett's attendants were Eric Barnett, best man, Stephen Purkale, Joseph Mercer and Ted Garcia, groomsmen and ushers.

The bride's mother chose a blue coat and dress ensemble and the bridegroom's mother wore a three-piece pink silk and worsted suit. Both complemented their costumes with corsages of gardenias and purple flowers.

After a honeymoon in the Smoky Mountains National Park, the bride and groom will make their home in East St. Louis.

The former Miss Tonsor is employed as a sales clerk in a St. Louis department store and is attending SIU-SW where Mr. Barnett is a senior. He is employed as a postal clerk in East St. Louis.

Miss Joyleen Mertz and Douglas Pascoe are Wed

Traditional white flowers on the altar and lighted candles in the aisle formed the setting late Saturday afternoon for the wedding at St. John United Church of Christ of Miss Joyleen Elizabeth Mertz, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Mertz, 3212 Terrace lane, and Douglas Earl Pascoe, a son of Mrs. Calvin Elmore, Rural Route One, and William Pascoe of St. Louis.

Rev. Paul Surbey heard the vows of the couple at 5:30 and a reception followed at the VFW Hall. Mrs. William Pascoe III was in charge of the guest book.

The soloist, Mrs. Linda Hunter, sang the Lord's Prayer; "One Hand, One Heart," and the theme from Romeo and Juliet, accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Irene Barrick.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over silk. The scalloped neckline, bell sleeves and Empire waistline were accented with clusters of sequins. A chapel train fell from the shoulders in tiers of lace with sequin trim and a profile headpiece of orange blossoms and crystals secured a shoulder-length tiered veil of imported silk illusion. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white roses with pink and Burgundy streamers.

Mrs. William Mertz, the bride's sister-in-law, was matron of honor, and Miss Dorcas Pascoe, a sister of the groom, and Miss Sherry Howard were bridesmaids.

They were dressed alike in gowns with Burgundy velvet bodices in Empire design with pastel pink crepe skirts. The open necklines were edged with Venice lace, and elbow sleeves were bound with matching lace. At the center of the bodices were large lace motifs and the long skirts were relaxed sheaths with soft floating panels cascading down the back detailed with pink crepe bows at the center back. They were matching Burgundy velvet bows and brief bouffant face veils. Their flowers were colonial nosegays of pink pom poms and Burgundy carnations.

William Pascoe was his brother's best man, and Bill Rollins and William G. Mertz, the bride's brother, served as groomsmen. The ushers were Louis Giedinghagen, the bride's groom's cousin, and Stephen Tippet.

The bride's mother chose a silk sari cloth trimmed with lace and pink accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a coat and dress of Burgundy boucle, pink accessories and Burgundy carnations.

Both young people are 1967 graduates of the Granite City high school and the bridegroom, who was recently released from military service, is employed by the Granite City Steel Co. The former Miss Mertz is employed by the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank.

Out of town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rardin of Hammond, Ind.

The rehearsal dinner was given Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Elmore. The newlyweds will live in Granite City, following a brief honeymoon at Tan-Tar-A in the Ozarks.

MRS. DOUGLAS E. PASCOE. Before her wedding Saturday at St. John United Church of Christ, she was Joyleen Mertz.

NAVY MOTHERS HOLD MEETING

MRS. JOHN KLEE. Her wedding took place Saturday at Nameoki United Methodist Church. She will be remembered as Gail Richards.

Miss Richards, John Klee Exchange Wedding Vows

In an evening ceremony taking place at 7 o'clock Saturday at Nameoki United Methodist Church, Miss Gail Richards, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Richards, 2855 Iowa street, became the bride of John Klee, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. John H. Klee, 21 Nassau drive.

Rev. Dean Blackburn, pastor of the Madison United Methodist Church, officiated.

Mrs. William Foster, organist, played the wedding march and accompanied the vocalists, Jerry Doyle, as he sang "Because" and "One Hand, One Heart."

Mr. Richards gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a floor-length gown of white lace with a full, tiered skirt and a fitted lace bodice with tailored sleeves and a scalloped neckline etched with pearls. The lace train was attached at the shoulders, and a veil of illusion was held in place with a headpiece of petals and pearls. White roses and scattered pink daisies were combined in the bride's cascade bouquet.

Miss Denise West was maid of honor, and Miss Brenda Alge and Mrs. Albert Strain Jr., the latter a sister of the bridegroom, served as bridesmaids. They were dressed in identical gowns of hot pink karate with Empire bodices trimmed with matching embroidered lace. Trains were attached with bows and the maid of honor held a bouquet of pink and white painted daisies with long pink and white streamers.

The bridesmaids carried pink, blue, yellow and white painted daisies tied with ribbons in the same colors.

A little flower girl, Lori Lynn Hickman, a cousin of the bride, was in a white organza dress styled with an Empire waist and trimmed in pink. She carried a white wicker basket filled with pink daisy petals. Jon Strain, a nephew of the bridegroom, carried the rings.

David Newman was best man, and William Cowan, Albert Strain, Edward Weston and James Shepard served as groomsmen and ushers.

Mrs. Richards, the bride's mother, was in a sea green coat ensemble and beige accessories, while the bridegroom's mother chose an aqua coat and dress with matching accessories. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

The wedding reception was held in the church basement directly after the ceremony.

Broyles-Gabriel Nuptials At Sacred Heart Church

Miss Jean Ann Gabriel and Franklani Broyles exchanged wedding vows in a ceremony taking place Saturday afternoon at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Parents of the young people are Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Gabriel, 2533 Hodges avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Broyles, 2030 McCasland avenue, Madison.

The 5:30 ceremony was performed by Rev. Kevin Sullivan in a setting of white flowers and greenery.

Mrs. Margaret Crawshaw was at the organ, and Mrs. Alice Worthen was soloist.

The bride wore a gown of pure white French voile fashioned with a high neckline of imported Venice lace. The lace formed bands, making a pinafore bodice. Long, full sleeves were tightly cuffed and trimmed with lace and small buttons. A full detachable train fell from the back waistline into a sweep banded with lace. A profile bow and matching lace secured a tiered veil of French illusion, and the bride carried a cascade of gardenias and variegated ivy. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Ellen Gabriel was her sister's maid of honor, and the list of bridesmaids included Miss Beth Gabriel, a cousin, Miss Mollie Van Buskirk, another cousin of the bride, Mrs. Donald Nowicki, the bridegroom's cousin, and Mrs. Michael Kirkpatrick. Miss Laura Gabriel, younger sister of the bride, was junior maid.

They wore gowns of silk organza with sleeveless paisley boleros exposing long full sleeves and high necks trimmed with Venice lace. The honor maid chose peach, and the bridesmaids were in coral. All wore matching picture hats and carried nosegays of white pom poms.

A flower girl, Donna Broyles, the bridegroom's niece, was dressed like the older girls and carried a basket of white petals. David Shone carried the rings.

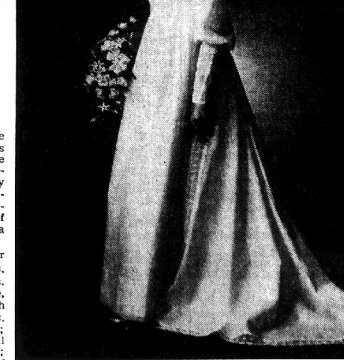

The bridegroom had his brother, Donald E. Broyles, as best man; and Jeff Gabriel, the bride's brother, Tony Gregus, George Gregus, Steve Brasfield, Alvin Kahler, the bride's cousin, and an uncle, Carl Kettel, made up the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gabriel wore an aqua knit suit, while the bridegroom's mother selected an aqua nylon and silk dress. Both wore matching accessories and white cymbidium orchid corsages.

The wedding reception was held at the Lewis and Clark restaurant in East Alton and the newlyweds left later for Florida where they will reside. Miss Elaine Robertson presided over the guest book.

The former Miss Gabriel, a graduate of Granite City high school, has been employed in St. Louis. Mr. Broyles graduated from the Madison schools. He is employed as a construction iron worker.

Region's Railroads Need Upgrading, Report Shows

(Sixth of a Series)
Railroads in Madison county, and the St. Louis region as a whole, are in a serious situation and there is no easy way out, according to the Madison county land use and transportation plan completed by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Commission.

The rail network will require expenditures of tremendous amounts of money, according to the report. It is apparent that the railroad situation within Madison county needs thorough study in relation to the entire metropolitan area and in relation to all of the railroads.

Madison county, as a part of the Illinois metropolitan area, is in close proximity to the East St. Louis rail yards. However, the network is slowly being strangled by its rail lines and the rail system's total operation is being severely impaired by its antiquated network of switching facilities.

The number of trunk line railroads serving the region has changed several times in the last few years due to mergers, but is now figured at 16. The railroads make the region the second largest rail center in the nation.

Rail lines serve most areas of Madison county. The industrial areas in the American Bottoms, particularly in the Quad-City and Wood River area, have an extensive system of lines.

The at-grade crossings have resulted in much congestion, concern and controversy in the past. The crossings have resulted in frequent stoppage of traffic movement for extended periods of time.

On the principal and collector street system in Madison and St. Clair counties, there are nearly 100 crossings. If all roads and streets in the two counties are included, the number increases to more than 300.

Everyone concerned, the motorists, the highway departments and the railroads, all agree the problem must be solved. Grade separations are a solution, but are costly.

In spite of the gravity of the problems, it is quite feasible that the region could be turned into a transportation and distribution center for the entire midwest, according to the report.

There is general agreement among most transportation authorities, however, that such a development would require sweeping changes in the terminal switching facilities.

It also is generally agreed that this area is a logical location for a regional transfer and distribution center. The improvement and relocation of switching and terminal facilities would naturally result in more efficient freight handling and more rapid processing of carload, containerized and piggy-back shipments.

The immediate benefits of this development would occur to the shippers and to the railroads. Secondary benefits will occur to the region as a whole by making it operate more efficiently and this, in turn, will make the region a more suitable location for industry.

The effect of modernization of switching and terminal facilities will aid in retaining industry and would play a major role in inducing additional industry to locate here.

Smith Proposes 4-Debate Series With Stevenson

U.S. Senator Ralph Tyler Smith (R., Ill.) has proposed a series of four debates with his Democratic opponent in the November election.

Smith said he favors the classical debate format for the series. This would limit each debate to a particular subject. Each participant would speak for 20 minutes, presenting his arguments on the questions, and each would then have 10 minutes to rebut arguments advanced by his opponent.

"At my instructions, my campaign managers have written Dan Walker, campaign manager for Mr. Stevenson," Smith said. "They have informed him of our proposals and suggested meetings to work out details of the debates."

Senate Control Issue
"By reaching an early decision on these matters, we can make it possible to have the widest possible news coverage of these discussions. This election for U.S. senator is undoubtedly the most important decision to be made by Illinois voters in 1970. It could decide control of the U.S. Senate."

"By meeting in debate to discuss the important issues of the campaign, we can give Illinois voters a more clear-cut choice."

"The decision they will make in November will have a profound effect upon the character and the direction of our nation. They have a right to know the views of myself and my opponent on all of the important issues, such as respect for law and order in our society, crime and measures which need to be taken to curb it, questions involving education and the involvement of the federal government in school policy, the economy, welfare and other matters of importance."

"The voters should have an opportunity to compare the positions of the candidates with regard to the conduct of foreign policy by this government. They should know the positions of the candidates on methods to be employed to curb pollution."

"The opportunity to compare the candidates in a face-to-face encounter offers the voters of Illinois the best opportunity to reach a correct judgment. My opponent early indicated a desire to participate in such debates, and I hope that details of a schedule can be worked out as soon as possible."

Smith suggested that the debates be held in different parts of Illinois to give all Illinois voters an opportunity to see the candidates face to face.

JC Rodeo To Feature Fast Draw Gun Artist

A fast draw artist whose precision expertise with firearms enthralled Granite City Jaycees and their guests last week has been signed to appear in the Jaycees' "International Championship Rodeo," to be staged at the Tri-City Speedway, Saturday and Sunday, July 18 and 19. Tickets are now available from Jaycee members.

Bob Younger, a distant relative of the notorious Younger Brothers outlaw gang, demonstrated his gun artistry for local Jaycees and their guests at the chapter's monthly meeting in the Jaycee clubhouse on Poplar street.

About 50 attended, including George Barnett of Cahokia, an Illinois Jaycee vice-president and representatives from Jaycee chapters in Edwardsville and O'Fallon.

The expert gunman drew praise from those witnessing the exhibition and an invitation to Younger to join several nationally-known performers and top ranked cowboys in the rodeo was extended by club officials.

Introduced by Gary Davis, rodeo chairman, Younger displayed part of his vast collection of guns and described techniques and weapons in "fast draw" and "quick draw" contests.

For his performance at the Jaycee meeting, Younger appeared in a black and white sheriff's outfit, complete with wide-brimmed stetson, reminiscent of the style worn by Wyatt Earp. A well-clipped moustache lent added authenticity to his stern "lawman" appearance.

Employed as a sticker in the Cold Strip Department at Granite City Steel Co., the fast draw competitor has worked at the local steel mill the past 21 years. He has won 32 trophies for his gun handling feats and was featured on television.

Grad Krause, chairman of rodeo ticket sales, reported tickets shortly will be distributed to various local business firms which have agreed to handle their sale to the public. At present, advance tickets may be purchased from any Jaycee member, at a cost of $1.75 for adults.

Falls From Bar Stool, Is Pronounced Dead
Joseph Ward, 62, of 1121 Bissell street, Venice, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 6:30 p.m. Thursday after he had fallen from a bar stool in Garrett's Cut Rate Liquor store at 337 Weaver street.

Venice police said that Ward, after he had fallen, was placed in a chair by several tavern patrons who later noticed the man had not moved. They called police and Ward was taken by ambulance to the hospital where he was pronounced dead.

Although witnesses told police that Ward struck his head on a bar stool when he had fallen, Deputy Coroner Edward Werner said the victim had a past history of a heart ailment and the head wound was not believed to have been involved in his death.

Ward was taken to an East St. Louis funeral home.

tion, a non-profit foundation. John Putnam, one of the Ten Outstanding Young Men of America for 1966 and foundation president said, "It is the purpose of the program to recognize and honor the young men in our country who are working toward excellence in their careers and community service. It is these young men who will soon be the leaders of our country."

Doug Blankenship, past U.S. Jaycee president who is serving as chairman of the board of advisory officers, said that the men selected "have distinguished themselves in one or more fields of endeavor to the point of being outstanding." The men chosen are between the ages of 21 and 35.

The annual biographical compilation features the accomplishments of about 500 young men of outstanding rank throughout the nation. Nominations for the year's publication are made by Jaycee chapters, college alumni associations and military commandants.

Criteria for selection includes a man's service to others, professional excellence, business advancements, charitable activities and civic and professional recognition.

President Richard M. Nixon has said of the publication, "Outstanding Young Men of America presents a most fitting testimonial not only to the success of many of our young people, but also to their awareness of the debt which they owe our free society."

Bi-State Gets More U.S. Funds for Buses

The Bi-State Development Agency has been awarded an additional $291,703 in federal funds to supplement an earlier grant for the purchase of 52 air-conditioned and radio-equipped buses.

The amount was withheld by the Department of Transportation in 1968 when the allocation to Bi-State was limited to a matching fund basis. The agency at that time was told to complete all planning requirements under the Urban Mass Transit Act of 1964.

Col. R. E. Smyser, executive director of Bi-State, said he had received notice from Carlos C. Villarreal, Urban Mass Transportation administrator, that all planning requirements now have been met by the Bi-State Agency, making it eligible for the additional funds.

The agency also will be eligible for one-third, two-third grants for capital improvements in the future.
